

Wind Cluster in China

The China Wind Power exhibition in Beijing 2009 with a remarkably high number of visitors proved an extremely important event to Wind Cluster.

During the 3-day show we experienced an overwhelming interest in our products and services, and we regret that particularly on the first day of the exhibition, we were unable to attend to all visitors. We do hope to get a chance to speak with them soon.

It was a great pleasure to us to welcome Henrik, His Royal Highness The Prince Consort, who visited the Wind Cluster booth on the last day of the show. We highly appreciate the visit which attracted a great deal of attention among Chinese customers and business relations.

The China Wind Power also proved an excellent opportunity to meet with some of our partners, among them SeaCom, NGC, Hengstler, etc. who were present at the booth.

Looking back at this bustling event, it was amazing to experience that in the midst of a worldwide financial crisis the wind industry is still positive and optimistic about the future; a feel that is particularly pronounced in China at the moment.

We look forward to further discussions with the people who visited our booth and hope they will develop into long-term relations.

Thank you.
